Re: WC Docket No. 06-210
CCB/CPD 96-20

Response to AT&T's May 14th 2008 Reply Regarding the 15 Day "Statute of Limitations"

Dear FCC Staff

Petitioners had requested that AT&T provide the FCC a copy of the April emails that petitioners sent the FCC. Petitioners had a computer malfunction and lost those emails.

AT&T on May 14 2008 within AT&T's FCC comments AT&T directed the FCC to see the April 29th 2008 email but only the FCC ethics office staff was sent the April 29th 2008 emails and the FCC staff working on case 06-210 never did receive the April 2008 emails sent by petitioners, nor did AT&T provide the emails as an exhibit.

AT&T counsel simply decided that it would not provide petitioners these emails despite petitioners request and AT&T's directive to the FCC to see the emails!

Attached are the emails that petitioners requested from the FCC ethics staff under FOIA.

As has been evidenced, AT&T counsel not only lied to the DC Circuit that AT&T properly met the "statute of limitations" requirement of tariff section 2.1.8 by denying the Jan 13th 1995 "traffic only" transfer---- BUT AT&T counsel then tried to deceive the FCC on May 14th 2008 in an attempt to cover the DC Circuit lie.

Not surprising when petitioners unraveled AT&T counsels cover-up deception on June 11th and June 13th 2008 within its FCC comments, AT&T counsel has not even filed anything with the FCC as it got caught and did not want to cause further ethics damage and damage to its 06-210 case.

See cover letter from FCC to follow and the attached PDF.
